

Gilchrist Physicians and Board Members Make Baltimore Magazine's 2019 "Top Docs" List

November 4, 2019 – Hunt Valley, Md. Two Gilchrist physicians have been endorsed by their peers as Baltimore's best physicians in Baltimore magazine's 2019 "Top Docs" list. Delia Chiaramonte, MD was recognized in the categories of Palliative Medicine and Alternative/Complementary Medicine and Marian Alessandroni, MD was recognized in Palliative Medicine. In addition, Gilchrist Board members Paul Celano, MD and Timothy Doran, MD also were named 'Top Docs.'

To derive the list, the magazine surveyed more than 13,000 physicians in the region asking them which doctors are the best in their specialties. Only about five percent of all the MDs in the area received the overwhelming peer support needed to make this prestigious list.

We are very grateful to have such talented doctors and board members at Gilchrist who are working in areas in which they are changing culture and lives. Congratulations to these physicians for this outstanding recognition.

Delia Chiaramonte, MD

Dr. Chiaramonte is the Medical Director of Gilchrist's Integrative and Palliative Medicine service. She provides inpatient and outpatient Integrative & Palliative Medicine at GBMC in the Sandra & Malcolm Berman Cancer Institute (outpatient) and in the hospital as part of the Integrative & Palliative Medicine consult service. She has been with Gilchrist for a little over a year. Before that she was the Associate Director of the Center for Integrative Medicine at the University of Maryland School of Medicine, where she worked for 10 years.

Marian Alessandroni, MD

Dr. Alessandroni is an Admissions Physician at Gilchrist. She is board certified in Hospice & Palliative Medicine, Geriatrics and Internal Medicine. Dr. Alessandroni has been a physician at Gilchrist since 2015, providing palliative care to patients at GBMC. Prior to that, she was the Medical Director of Hospice of the Chesapeake.
